

10080 Robert T. Booth, Q.C.

Bob Booth is a senior partner in the Calgary office of the Bennett Jones LLP law firm.

Bob is involved in business, professional, academic and public policy organizations. He is a director of ATCO Ltd. and of Canadian Utilities Limited; he has served as a director of the Canadian Petroleum Law Foundation and is a past president of The Royal Military Colleges Club of Canada. Bob is a director of the Conference of Defence Associations Institute and the Canadian Defence & Foreign Affairs Institute. He received the Institute-certified Director qualification (ICD.D) from the Institute of Corporate Directors on March 13, 2009.

Bob's legal practice covers many areas of corporate, commercial, energy and resources law both for Canadian and a variety of foreign corporations.

To complement his legal practice, Bob has taught Oil and Gas Law and has spoken and authored articles on Canadian Oil and Gas for the Canadian Petroleum Law Foundation, the Alberta Law Review, and various professional and business seminars.

Bob is a member of the Law Society of Alberta and the Canadian Bar Association. He is recognized as one of Canada's leading lawyers in Energy Law (2009, Lexpert/American Lawyer Guide to the Leading 500 Lawyers in Canada; 2010, Chambers Global: The World's Leading Lawyers for Business in energy: Oil and Gas; 2010, Best Lawyers in Canada).

Bob has been with Bennett Jones throughout his legal career, joining in 1977 and becoming a partner in 1984. A Bachelor of Engineering graduate from the Royal Military College of Canada in 1974, he entered Dalhousie Law School as a Dunn Scholar and was awarded the Oil and Gas Prize upon graduation in 1977.

Bob is Honourary Counsel to the Royal Military Colleges Club of Canada Foundation Inc.