Bryn Weadon is a naval supply officer who retired in 2009 after 35 years of military service. He graduated with a Bachelor of Business Administration from the Collège Militaire Royal de Saint-Jean in 1979. In addition to serving both at sea and ashore with the Navy, Bryn served as the Commander of the Canadian Forces Recruiting Group, Director General Financial Management, and finally as Assistant Deputy Minister Finance and Corporate Services and Senior Full-time Financial Officer for National Defence.

Bryn completed the full range of Leadership Courses at the Canadian Forces College as well as earning both a Certified Management Accounting and Professional Logistician designation. He has been an active volunteer with a number of organizations related to both finance and logistics.

A life-member of the RMC Club, Bryn served for five years as the Canadian Forces Liaison Officer to the RMC Club Executive Committee. He continues to support the RMC Club as a member of the Life Membership Investment Fund committee. He joined the RMC Foundation in 2009, becoming Treasurer.

Since retirement, Bryn has remained involved with the Canadian Forces as a member of both the Non-Public Property Board and Military Families Fund Executive Committee. He is currently an adjunct professor at RMC in the MBA Programme with a focus on Public Sector Finance.

Bryn and his spouse Frances reside in Musquodoboit Harbour, NS. They enjoy gardening and travelling in their RV.
